• Story is longer than suggested timing. Break into two ½ hour sessions.
• Cultural references can be important motivators for students.
• DVD is not exactly the same as the written story. Show at the end of the unit or short portions before designing. The DVD shows actual potato chip factory scenes and can be important context for students who have never seen a factory.